Presidents Message

By Paul Dittmann

President's Message – September 2005

Welcome Back! We hope everyone had a great summer.

Please check the Home Page calendar at www.aitpchicago.com , and the SIG pages frequently as our Fall schedule begins to fill up. Also check www.executivesclub.org for the valuable events sponsored by the Executives Club of Chicago.

SIG Groups Continuing to Grow – Encourage your staffs to participate

Keep in mind that AITP Chapters are all volunteer organizations. This is true of the SIGs as well. It takes a lot of effort to get a Special Interest Group up and running, but the potential to provide value to its members is great – just ask the participants of some of our more successful SIGs. As you'll note on some of the SIG pages, hosts have already volunteered for the next several CTO, Security, PMO and Governance meetings and we are working on helping our other groups do the same. The VMS SIG, in addition to their extensive white paper, has held successful vendor fairs each of the last two years. Rich Barnier has been working tirelessly, as usual, to help the SIG leaders and to also work on forming national alliances with similar groups at other AITP chapters across the country.

How can you help – Participate, and encourage your staff to participate by attending meeting, recommending suggested meeting topics or volunteering to help develop white papers. If you have an important business or technology issue that you need help with, talk with our SIG leaders and learn how they can help. The SIGs are resources you can use to you and your organizations succeed – but only if you take advantage of them.

Take the first step. Look at our SIG page and see which ones are of interest to you or your associates. Call the SIG leaders to find out how you can help them, and in turn, help yourself.

AITP National Conference in New Orleans

AITP will be holding its National Conference in New Orleans of October 6-8, 2005. Session will cover such topics as Security, VoIP and Wireless networking. You can find more information on the Agenda by going to www.aitp.org and clicking on the National Conference Link.

AITP Research and Strategy Group

John Braly (CIO of TTX) and I are participating in AITP's Research and Strategy Group. During this our first year we have been discussing various aspects of enterprise and homeland security. We are working on developing closer ties between the corresponding AITP and Infragard chapters in each city and will be publishing a report in the 4th quarter outlining the primary areas we will be concentrating on in 2006.

CIO of the Year Award

Again this year the Executives Club of Chicago and AITP's Chicago Chapter are co-sponsoring the CIO of the Year Award. This has become one of the most respected technology awards in the country. The submissions are judged by a panel comprised primarily of past award winners and finalists. Although it would not be appropriate for me to vote, I have helped facilitate the selections discussions the past two years and I assure you our judges take their jobs seriously. They are looking for specific, measurable achievements not generalize PR claims. The 2005 CIO of the Year Award Recipient will be announced on Wednesday, October 19 at the Executives Club of Chicago's Technology Conference at Hilton Chicago, from 2-4 PM.

As an AITP member, you can obtain a free pass to the Technology Conference by sending an e-mail to Rich.Barnier@aitpchicago.com . Also contact Rich if you would like to sponsor a table or sit at one of our AITP tables at the luncheon preceding the Technology Conference. The luncheon speaker will be Brian L. Roberts, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Comcast Corporation. AITP members receive a discounted rate for the luncheon.

New benefits coming for AITP members

I have been working with Culminis over the past few months to develop new benefits for our members. They contributed many of the Microsoft products given away at our golf outing and have provided training and product previews for some of our members. They have been going through some restructuring over the summer which has slowed down some of our joint initiatives, but we're looking forward to following through on many of these in the coming year.

New Benefits for AITP Vendor Members

A few years ago our Board brainstormed what we could do to provide more value to our corporate members (referred to as "practitioners"). Our SIG groups grew out of these discussions and they have been very successful in attracting new active members. As you know, we don't require membership to participate in any of our events, although we do encourage it. We feel the membership benefits provided by our Chapter and the National organization far outweigh the cost. We are now brainstorming what we can do to provide more value to our vendor members. We feel it is to all of our members' benefit to have a good mix of vendors and practitioners and that we are not providing as much benefit for our vendor members as we should. One of the things we've been discussing is a preferred vendors section on our Chapter web site where vendor members can list their products and services. We need your input on other things we can do to provide value. Feel free to contact Rich, me, or any of our board members with your suggestions. They will be greatly appreciated.

Web Site Link for Speakers – If you would like to present at one of our meetings or participate in a panel discussion on a particular topic, please either use the Speakers icon on our homepage or e-mail me at paul.dittmann@aitpchicago.com .

I look forward to seeing you at one of our SIG or Chapter meetings – and don't forget to bring a friend.

Sincerely,
Paul F. Dittmann, President, AITP Chicago

DeVry University's capstone course, Senior Project, requires students to "apply knowledge and mastered skills, including problem-solving techniques and project-management methods, to an applications-oriented project."

You can take advantage of this opportunity to have senior-level computer information systems and network and communications management students do a project for you.

If the idea sounds intriguing, send Dave Branigan an email (david.branigan@aitpchicago.com) to find out how to get a project team working for you.

DeVry University Scholarship Programs

The price of higher education and the related issue of affordability are key concerns for the families of college applicants. DeVry is keenly aware of this issue.

As a response to address affordability and attract new students who would have a strong technology interest, we have developed several new scholarship programs. I have developed the list of DeVry University Scholarships. All of these scholarships are renewable if the student meets the prescribed level of academic achievement. For more information on any of these scholarships please contact Kerrie Flynn at our campus. She can be reached at extension 3582.

Topic/Theme: "The Security Risk Management Discipline"

“Many organizations are introduced to security risk management by the necessity of responding to a relatively small security incident. For example, a computer becomes infected with a virus, or the company Web site becomes hacked. Whatever the incident, as more and more issues relating to security arise and begin to impact the business, many organizations become frustrated with responding to one crisis after another.

The development of a security risk management process can assist organizations in a more proactive approach to threats. In this session, you will learn how to make security decisions to protect your entire IT network, reducing and managing threats BEFORE they happen.”

Speakers: Shawn Travis

Shawn was the key presenter at Microsoft throughout many locations in the US. Shawn has B.A. Economics and Information Technology, Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana. Shawn has been quoted in local newspapers, such as the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel, and appeared on television several times, including twice on Fox News In the Morning, “Wake Up to Technology.”

About the Executives Club of Chicago

Chicago-based programs, with global impact

Ranked as one of the nation's top three business forums by the Washington D.C.-based "Top-Speaking Forums," The Executives' Club of Chicago earns that reputation with effective programs and activities.

Our regular luncheon speakers are the CEOs of Fortune 100 companies. We provide our members -- and all Chicago business -- a seat at the table as key diplomats and international business leaders shape policy for the global economy. International Advisory Council assists in establishing critical strategic alliances in cities throughout the world, helping to ensure that wherever our members travel, they can rely on Executives' Club to connect with viable business prospects and partners, to monitor trends, and to gain access to the executives and diplomats who drive the global economy.

Chicago Programs: Club members convene for ten luncheon meetings yearly to hear nationally known CEOs, politicians and policy-makers. Luncheons provide an ideal forum for members to develop business contacts and entertain clients. Our 9 Committees and 4 Special Interest Groups sponsor 30 special briefings on business issues throughout the year.

Washington, D.C.: Executive Leadership Briefings bring Executives' Club delegations together with senior government officials for off-the-record meetings on trade and economic issues.

International: Since 1990, when the Club's first Executive Leadership Mission visited the former Soviet Union and Finland, the Executives' Club has conducted 4 international missions to Belgium, Germany, Hungary and Poland (1992), to the People's Republic of China and Hong Kong (1994) and to Paris, Brussels, Berlin and Prague to meet with senior officials of the European Commission, the European Parliament and senior officials in the public and private sector (1995). Led by Governor Edgar and Executives' Club President Kaarina Koskenalusta, this most recent mission identified a wide range of trade, joint venture and investment opportunities available in these countries for our members in the European market place of 350 million people.

Networking opportunities: Committees and Special Interest Groups

With our membership growing each year, it's sometimes difficult to meet those Executives' Club members who can most positively impact your business. To facilitate networking among our members, the Club has established 13 dynamic committees and special interest groups. These committees develop programs/briefings that focus on specific topics and provide a forum for all Club members with the opportunity to meet and network with other members who share their special interests. In addition, committee members take responsibility for nominating and screening new Club members who will keep our organization vital and enhance the value of Executives' Club membership for all.

Committee members serve by appointment of the Club's Chairman. Active participation (a minimum of 2 general meetings and two briefings per year) is critical to the effectiveness and impact of these committees. If you wish to be considered for a committee appointment, please contact the Club office
